

Parenting to prevent and heal ACEs

(Adverse Childhood Experiences)

Donna Jackson Nakazawa, Childhood Disrupted: How Your Biography Becomes Your Biology & How You Can Heal

“The main point is this: No matter how old you are – or how old your child may be, there are scientifically supported and relatively simple steps that you can take to reboot the brain, create new pathways that promote healing, and come back to who it is you were meant to be.”

NURTURE & PROTECT KIDS AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE

Be a source of safety and support.

MOVE AND PLAY

Drum. Stretch. Throw a ball. Dance. Move inside or outside for fun, togetherness and to ease stress.

MAKE EYE CONTACT

Look at kids (babies, too). It says, “I see you. I value you. You matter. You’re not alone.”

SAY, “SORRY”

We all lose our patience and make mistakes. Acknowledge it, apologize, and repair relationships. It’s up to us to show kids we’re responsible for our moods and mistakes.

GIVE 20-SECOND HUGS

There’s a reason we hug when things are hard. Safe touch is healing. Longer hugs are most helpful.

SLOW DOWN OR STOP

Rest. Take breaks. Take a walk or a few moments to reset or relax.

HUNT FOR THE GOOD

When there’s pain or trauma, we look for danger. We can practice looking for joy and good stuff, too.

BE THERE FOR KIDS

It’s hard to see our kids in pain. We can feel helpless. Simply being present with our kids is doing something. It shows them we are in their corner.

HELP KIDS TO EXPRESS MAD, SAD & HARD FEELINGS

Hard stuff happens. But helping kids find ways to share, talk, and process helps. Our kids learn from us.

KEEP LEARNING

Support for parents with ACEs

“The best thing we can do for the children we care for is to manage our own stuff. Adults who’ve resolved their own trauma help kids feel safe.” –Donna Jackson Nakazawa

“Learning about ACEs is a start but sometimes we need more. Many people with ACEs have never had their pain validated. Understanding that there exists a biological connection between what they experienced in childhood, and the physical and mental health issues they face now, can help set them on a healing path, where they begin to find new ways to take care of themselves, and begin new healing modalities.”
